

Greetings!

The Nebraska Victim Assistance Academy (NEVAA) is pleased to announce that applications for the 2017 Academy are now being accepted! NEVAA is a 5-day, 40-hour certificate program providing statewide, standardized, academic training for victim service providers and allied professionals- from new advocates to those who have worked in the field for many years. Our faculty is comprised of professors, advocates, law enforcement officers, and other professionals who are experts in their field. The comprehensive curriculum is tailored to the needs of Nebraska's crime victims and those who serve them.

Participants are eligible for 40 hours of continuing law enforcement units or continuing education units for many other disciplines involved in the academy. Students may also apply for 3 college credits through Creighton University or the University of Nebraska at Kearney (further fees will apply). NEVAA is certified through the National Advocate Credentialing Program for those looking for national victim advocate accreditation.

Scholarship and additional information regarding funding is available online at: <http://nebraskanevaa.org/application-info/>. We strongly encourage all of Nebraska's victim service providers to attend the Academy and are offering free on-campus housing at Creighton University for those who need it for no additional cost!
