

LIFE AFTER INNOCENCE

WHAT HAPPENS AFTER YOU ARE FOUND INNOCENT?

A number of innocence projects work around the country (and the world) to free those in prison for crimes they did not commit. However, there are fewer, if any, resources for persons once exonerated.

March 30, 5:30-7:00 p.m.
Harper Center Auditorium

LAURA CALDWELL
LAWYER, HUMANITARIAN, AUTHOR
DIRECTOR OF LIFE AFTER INNOCENCE

KRISTINE BUNCH

EXONERATED 17 YEARS, ONE MONTH, AND 16 DAYS
AFTER HER WRONGFUL ARREST

Laura Caldwell is a former civil trial attorney who is now a law professor at Loyola University Chicago School of Law. She is also director of Life After Innocence and a published author of 15 books.

In 2001, she joined Loyola University Chicago School of Law and has taught Advanced Litigation Writing and International Criminal Law, among others. Inspired by a court victory and the challenges her client faced in rejoining society, Laura founded Loyola's Life After Innocence, which assists wrongfully convicted individuals and other innocent persons affected by the criminal justice system to help them re-enter society and reclaim their lives.

Hosted by the Social Work Program
in the Department of Cultural and Social Studies
Co-Sponsored by: Nebraska Innocence Project

Creighton University
Social Work
Program

